

You would not leave a loaded gun on your kitchen table, but what about your prescription medications?

Fact: Virtually all suburban heroin abusers began as prescription drug abusers. OxyContin, Vicodin, Percocet and other pain medication is the legal equivalent to heroin. You would not leave a loaded gun on your kitchen table. Pain killers are truly killers when they fall into the hands of curious teenagers. Please count all of your medication and be sure to lock all medicines in a secure place.

It's 10:00 pm, do you know where your children are? Have you counted your pills today?
