West Seniors Speak to Town Council for Capstone Project

Civic action and involvement was on full display recently as West seniors Brianna Frayler, Emma Risolo, Samantha Becker, Isabella DiClemente and Ava Thomas spoke to the Town Council about installing sunscreen dispensers at local town beaches. The project is part of the Capstone Project for the students as they work towards the NYS Seal of Civic Readiness. Great work girls!

College Oceans Classes Participate in Engaging Field Trip

College Oceans classes from both high schools recently participated in an engaging STEAM workshop led by the talented artist Bri Sander from UpSculpt. This enriching experience took place at the BOCES Outdoor Environmental Lab, where students had the opportunity to explore the intersection of community service, art and science at Sunken Meadow State Park.

Following the workshop, students embarked on an educational field trip to the Cold Spring Harbor Whaling Museum. During their visit, they gained valuable insights into Long Island's rich history of whaling, learning more about these amazing creatures and the significant impact this industry had on our coastal environment and communities.
