Celebrating Brooke Shatles

For Brooke Shatles, St. James is more than a place on the map. It's where she raised her three sons, made lifelong friends, and built a life full of family memories.

Brooke believed in the vision for our historic theatre from the beginning. As a volunteer, donor, and supporter, she has helped turn that vision into a gathering place for the community she calls home.

Looking ahead, Brooke hopes the St. James Community Arts Center will be a place where people of all ages can “learn, create, perform, and connect.” We love that vision—and we’re proud to honor her at An American Overture on October 21! 🇺🇸✨

Celebrate Brooke with us: attend the gala, place a journal ad in her honor, or make a donation.

Celebrating Kerry J. Maher-Weisse 🌟

Sometimes a few words of encouragement help set something extraordinary in motion.

In 2017, Kerry encouraged Natalie, Jack, and Arline to establish Celebrate St. James as an independent nonprofit, believing they could accomplish even more with an organization of their own. Nine years later, that encouragement is part of our story.

As CEO of St. James Funeral Home, Lake Avenue Florals, and Bloom, Kerry's connection to St. James is both personal and professional. She has called this community home her entire life, and now her children are growing up here, too.

For Kerry, Celebrate St. James means a place where families can enjoy the arts, make friends, explore our town's history, and discover interests that last a lifetime. Her hope for the future is a legacy that continues enriching our community for generations.

Join us in celebrating Kerry and her family at  An American Overture!
